

Contact The Sloaney

Email us here

Get some holiday inspiration from our travel pages

Watch Sloaney TV

Read our Raise a Glass Series

A healthy Algrave retreat

Katie Ann Lamb visits Vilalara

Patricia Bech: Easter holiday inspiration

Patricia Bech rounds up some Easter travel offers

Latest Features

The Season 2020: Key

Patricia Bech: Ideas for Easter holidays

By Patricia Bech

Are you looking for a family holiday destination, fancy jetting off on a romantic break with your other half or want to somewhere fun to go with friends? With Easter just around the corner there are plenty of exciting places to visit. I have been busy writing about destinations for the Patricia Bech Travel Notes and here is a roundup of some top travel ideas for the holiday period for readers of The Sloaney.

There are some excellent offers on at the moment and some exciting new properties to visit.

Celebrate Easter in Athenian style

If you want to enjoy some cultural celebrations, try celebrating Easter in Athenian style by visiting the fascinating Greek capital for its Holy Week. Expert guides bring the history of sites such as the Acropolis and Athens' old town, Plaka, to life in the context of Easter and activities such as a cooking lesson and pottery workshop provide a close encounter with the city's rich traditions. Personally, I love Athens and I covered it for the Patricia Bech Travel Notes last year.

Easter in Athens costs from £2,895 pp (two sharing), including transfers, seven nights' B&B, most other meals, entrance fees, tips and expert-led excursions. Flights extra. Departs 13 April. Call AITO* member Patricia Bech on 01200 888 888.

The Season 2020: Key dates now available for the British Social Season

Beauty Buzz previews the best new products

How to get the Duchess of Cambridge's hair

Events and Social News

