

Owd Barn

A destination delight in the heart of West Lancashire

You could easily be forgiven for thinking Owd Barn is simply a charming tea room — but in reality, it is so much more.

Yes, the tea room is a real highlight (we sampled the afternoon tea recently and can highly recommend it), but this much-loved destination offers a wide range of culinary delights alongside a thriving hub of independent businesses.

What began in the 1990s as a way for the Ashcroft family to sell produce from their farm has evolved into a vibrant, multi-faceted destination that attracts visitors from across the region. Today, Owd Barn is home to an impressive collection of businesses, all carefully curated to create a unique and high-quality experience.

From a renowned local butcher and a well-stocked farm shop, to beauty treatments at Vitality Spa, relaxing yoga classes, and expert styling at The Hair Lab — known for working with celebrity clients and major events — there is something here for everyone. Visitors can also discover beautifully crafted custom handbags at Hannah's Bazaar, indulge in delicious creations from Emily Bakes Cakes, explore aesthetics services, and even book professional photography sessions with the newest addition to the site.

Despite being fully occupied, the Ashcroft family remain open to conversations with new businesses. For the right fit, expansion is always a possibility. As Helen Ashcroft explains, "Appointment-based businesses work particularly well here," highlighting the flexibility and forward-thinking nature of the venue.

At the heart of it all remains the farm shop — the longest-standing element of Owd Barn — which continues to draw loyal customers from miles around. Offering a carefully selected range of produce you simply won't find in a typical supermarket, it's a haven for those seeking quality and originality. From freshly baked bread to artisan biscuits and beyond, every visit brings something new to discover.

A true local favourite is the iconic Ormskirk gingerbread, which sells out almost as quickly as it arrives — a testament to its popularity and quality.

Another standout feature is the dedicated greeting card room, where unique, beautifully designed cards fly off the shelves — with over 30 sold on some days. It's this attention to detail and commitment to offering something different that sets Owd Barn apart from the high street.

Whether you're searching for a thoughtful gift, something special for your home, or simply a relaxing spot to enjoy coffee and cake, Owd Barn delivers on every level.

This is more than just a place to visit — it's a destination to experience.

And once you've been, you'll understand exactly why so many people return time and time again.
