

---

ATKIN AND THYME

---

Get Set for Wimbledon

With Wimbledon just around the corner, the TV is about to be placed on centre court once again. Atkin and Thyme's media unit range serves up an ace when it comes to organisation and style. From chic geometric designs to the art deco collection that never goes out of style, all of Atkin and Thyme's media units are free standing, crafted with a range of woods from acacia to mango, and furnished with iron and brass features.

Fandango Media Unit - £499

Mercury Media Unit - £499

Pascali Brass Media Unit - £329

With open and closed door storage for easy access, the Fandango Media Unit has a charismatic whitewashed mango wood finish, with brass-plated legs and handles for splendour detailing. The Mercury Media Unit offers a unique design, and would easily be the centrepiece in any living room. With its intricate details, it boasts both a modern and industrial aesthetic, creating the perfect focal point for friends and family to gather around. The Pascali Brass Media Unit is crafted with solid mango wood, and creates the ultimate statement through its eclectic design, bohemian aesthetic and stunning colour.

Berkeley Media Unit - £549

Toshi Media Unit - £399

The Berkeley Media Unit has a delightful fusion of brass detailing and a black marble top design. This modern media unit is made from acacia wood with eye-catching powder coated black iron legs, and provides the perfect solution for storage. The low-level beautifully designed Toshi Media Unit is crafted from mango wood and has a cement and brass inlay to the two-door front. This industrial yet chic design provides a touch of luxury to the living room, dining room, or any open-plan space, and conceals all of the family essentials in style.

---

www.atkinandthyme.co.uk

Issued by Simpler PR: Please contact Maisie Mcentee at Simpler PR for further information, images or interview opportunities maisie@simplerpr.com / 01494 793501

