
ATKIN AND THYME

Tactile Textures

Mixed textures add visual weight to a scheme through delicate complexities that not only draw the eye, but the hand. These Atkin and Thyme pieces were designed to be enjoyed in look and touch with their tactile compositions.

The new El Capitan Sideboard is a 70's inspired delight. With 2 large cupboards and 3 doors, this striking design will provide enough space for crockery if used in the kitchen, or for family essentials if placed within the living area. Entertaining at home is here to stay, so it's essential for the socialites to have a bar cabinet handy. The Berkeley Marble Drinks Cabinet boasts an acacia wood body and the finishing touches of iron legs and an attractive black marble top. The Calvin Armchair in Mustard Yellow Velvet and Linen is the embodiment of contrasts; with its splash of colour that complements the curved wooden arms, and its sumptuous velvet and linen seat, this cosy mid-century style design will become a staple within any home.

With its distinctive combination of rosewood, luxurious brass detailing, and chic white marble surfaces, the Deco Marble Shelving Unit is a subtle showstopper. The dreamy Akita Grey Carved Chest of Drawers has been made from mango wood and intricately sanded to reveal the attractive wood grain underneath, then paired with cut glass handles for just a hint of glamour. Making all those chaotic mornings made a little easier; the Copper Hall Stand fuses mango wood and black iron copper, and is inspired by industrial concepts.
