

DEAN FRIEDMAN

at the French House Party

4-day
Song-writing course

"A Songsmith extraordinaire."
Music Week

"...a superb painter of word pictures, a song craftsman and musician."

Record Mirror

"A genius. An original.
A musical craftsman of unrivalled expertise."
Driffield Post

A rare opportunity to join international star performer Dean Friedman at his French House Party Song-writing course in Carcassonne.

The singer-songwriter of hits such as "Lucky Stars," "Lydia" and "Ariel" is in residence to instruct French House Party students as part of his European tour this summer. He will then head off to perform his annual gig at the Edinburgh Festival.

This is a unique event: never before has an artiste of Dean's calibre operated such a course – and in such an intimate setting.

The price also includes entry to one of Friedman's gigs at a nearby venue.

Dates: 30 July to 2 August, 2010 • All-inclusive price per person: £750
